Choosing the right gift is difficult. Here are some unusual gifts that might help.

A. Pocket Sriracha Hot Sauce Bottle Key Ring.

Sriracha is a spicy, red, sauce from Asia. The recipe includes chili peppers, distilled vinegar, pickled garlic, sugar, and salt. This gift is a small, plastic bottle filled with the delicious condiment. Your keys will be hooked onto a strong, metal ring which is attached to the bottle. It will be convenient and comforting to know that wherever you go, you'll have something tasty in your pocket. However, this gift won't work for people who don't like spicy foods.

B. Mannequin Man Lamp.

Imagine a little fellow waiting patiently on your desk where you work, or curling himself up on your bookshelf. He never complains or asks you questions. He doesn't speak at all. He's made of wood, and instead of a head, he has a bright lamp which you can turn on or off with a remote control. Don't worry: it's not too bright, because the Mannequin Man Lamp comes with a sturdy lampshade in any one of five attractive colors. The well-made figure can sit cross-legged, stand, or be posed in other positions. It's just like the small models often used by artists for their sketches, except that it provides a strong, helpful light.

C. Mermaid Tail Blanket.

These blankets are more like sleeping bags with the special shape of a favorite character from the sea. Specifically, it's a shimmering, smooth, forked tail. Your legs will be able to fit inside. Then the blanket can be pulled right up to your waist. Now you'll be wonderfully warm, but you will also have a long, blue or green tail just like a mermaid in a fairy story. These Mermaid Tail Blankets come in five sizes. The smallest is safe for a toddler, and the largest will work well for almost any grown-up.

D. Beard Ornaments.

These are small, colorful holiday lights. They won't be hung from a Christmas tree or on your windows. Instead, you'll carefully put them in and around a full, handsome beard. They are powered by five very small batteries. Despite fake news about accidents and some awful rumors spread online, there is no reason to be afraid of injury. These powerful batteries have never been known to malfunction, even though they're very small, and no hair has ever been set alight by these sparkling decorations.
